

Total Credits Required: 60 Credits Minimum

MFA students must complete 36 credits of Core Seminar, 12 credits of Practicum and 12 liberal arts elective credits (or four / 3 credit courses) to graduate. Students typically pace liberal arts courses - one per semester. However, some “double up” taking (2) two courses in their first and second semesters to dedicate additional time to studio in their 2nd year. Students register for a minimum of 15 credits total per semester to reach 60 credits.

Term	Course	Course #	Credits
Semester I	MFA Seminar I	PH 5590	9 credits
Semester II	MFA Seminar II	PH 5591	9 credits
Semester III	MFA Seminar III	PH 6500	9 credits
Semester IV	MFA Seminar IV	PH 6501	9 credits
Each Semester	Practicum I - IV	PH 5575, 5576, 6525, 6526	3 credits each semester
Electives	(4) Liberal Arts Electives	Various	12 credits
			TOTAL = 60 Credits

Maximizing your Academic Opportunities

Students may take up to 19.5 credits per semester to enhance their academic experience beyond the 60 credits required in the MFA degree plan. Consider additional electives to concentrate in Curatorial Practice or Critical Studies and /or You+ Professional Development coursework. Its important to be mindful of your studio time as well as Graduate Teaching Internships (GTIs) during the week when building your schedule. Your program director is a great resource to discuss both time management and electives that compliment your practice.

CHOOSING ELECTIVE COURSEWORK

Be mindful of your time during the week when building your schedule! Consult with your program director about time management and suitable electives to compliment your creative practice.

Recommended Graduate Electives

Review the Graduate Elective Guide for a complete list of graduate studio, liberal art and professional development elective courses. Students can also choose from dozens of elective courses, graduate or undergraduate, listed in the full schedule of courses at www.mica.edu.

Baltimore Student Exchange Program

Explore elective courses at our partner institutions (Johns Hopkins University and University of Baltimore) through the Baltimore Student Exchange Program. Forms and approval required through Enrollment Services. Contact Carissa Langer, BSEP Coordinator, clanger@mica.edu, in Enrollment Services for additional information.

MICA's Open Studies

Consider courses through MICA's Open Studies. Graduate students registered full-time may take one credit bearing course per semester (up to 3 credits). Call Open Studies directly (410) 225.2219 to register.

Independent Study

Independent study courses provide students the opportunity to develop and conduct self-designed research projects in collaboration with campus faculty. Independent study courses require the instructor approval, and a completed contract complying with MICA standards. Forms should be returned to the Office of Graduate Studies.

Internship for Credit

Professional internships may also be substituted for studio / liberal arts elective credit with permission from your program director. Students must attend an Internship Orientation through the Office of Career Development. Visit MICA's Career Development Office online for more information.

Critical Studies Concentration (CSC)

Formed by the completion of (15) fifteen credits (or five, 3-credit courses) of graduate-level work in approved courses that fall within three categories a) History, b) Theory, and c) Criticism/ Practice. Alternatively, a student may complete twelve credits (or four, 3-credit courses) of graduate-level work as well as a written capstone project.

Curatorial Practice Concentration (CPC)

Overseen and managed by the director of the MFA in Curatorial Practice and the Office of Graduate Studies, this concentration is formed through the successful completion of (12) twelve credits (or four, three-credit courses) of graduate-level work in courses described below and following approval of documentation of a final project.

ENROLLING IN ELECTIVE COURSES

Graduate students can register for graduate - level courses via MICA's online enrollment system. To register for an undergraduate level course, with prerequisites or enrollment restrictions, you will need to request approval to enroll from the undergraduate instructor.

ADVISING / REGISTRATION SUPPORT

Schedule an advising appointment to review your degree plan / progress to graduation. Your graduate advisor is available to assist you in the enrollment process. You may schedule an appointment with LaShay Harvey, Graduate Enrollment Advisor, ljones02@mica.edu during Open Advising Hours posted regularly throughout the year.
